

USE OF IACA MARK

Accreditation and certification provide trust in the market place and this is often transmitted through use of logos and marks or statements which may be on products, advertising, web sites and certificates.

Inappropriate or deliberate misuse of such logos and language can undermine this so we are providing here a central location of resources to inform producers, traders and consumers on their proper use.

We invite anyone with any concerns on use of logos within the scope of activity of the ICAC to contact us with any concerns.

Marks are used at different levels; business to business and business to consumer.

IACA Accreditation Logo:

The IACA accreditation symbol is a business mark that gave to a certification body is accredited by IACA and indicates their unique contract number. It may be used on certificates within the scope of their accreditation and on web sites and other promotional material. Rules for its use are set out in the IACA Use of Logo and name policy.
